

Summer Cooking Made Cool and Comfortable

There were two housewives. One of them did her cooking with an old fashioned coal range. Her kitchen was hot and stuffy and full of a variety of odors. In this uncomfortable atmosphere she labored all day, lifting a heavy coal scuttle cleaning up ashes, scrubbing woodwork and sooty pots and pans.

The other housewife had no such trials. She had no fire to kindle—no messy coal or ashes to handle. Her pots and pans were free from soot, and she washed them with other dishes. Her kitchen was as cool, as breezy and as sweet as a shady canyon.

An Electric Fan and an Electric Range will make your kitchen cool and comfortable. Thousands of women have found an electric range extremely practical and successful. An electric fan is simplicity typified. Both are easy to buy and cost little to operate. (With Apologies to Utah Power and Light company).

High Cost of Living

Come here and forget it. Foodstuffs are high everywhere, but at some stores they are higher than others. This is not one of the "some stores."

We never squeeze a penny to see if we can get a nickel out of it. We just buy our goods at the lowest possible price and sell them at a bare living profit.

We cater to the trade, especially, of stockmen, farmers and the minor. Special prices on case lots and quantities out of the ordinary order.

Buy one bill of goods here and you will come again. Everything is fresh—moved frequently. No stale merchandise on our shelves. Every day brings in new things.

RED CROSS SENDS OUT WORD ON WORK

PLENTY OF YARN ON HAND FOR SOCKS AND SWEATERS.

Measurements and Other Instructions Given By Division Officers From Headquarters At Denver, Colo., Which All the Auxiliaries Are Expected to Follow to the Letter.

"The mountain division has received a heavy allotment of knitted garments of which your chapter portion is two hundred forty-nine sweaters and four hundred and ninety-five pairs of socks," says a communication to the Price chapter of the American Red Cross from Denver, Colo., received during the present week. "These are to be completed and in our warehouse not later than September 1st. At least make monthly shipments or offerings if possible, and do not put off the shipping of these garments until the last moment, for in that way it would cause a great deal of congestion in our inspection room."

"We hope this allotment will be quite the best knitted work ever turned out by the mountain division, and it is absolutely necessary that both socks and the sweaters be well and smoothly knit. Measurements for sweaters are neck (when stretched) eleven and a half to twelve and a half inches and across chest (not stretched) seventeen to twenty inches. Laid on a level surface the finished sock should measure:

"Foot—Length eleven and a half inches, but ten and a half to twelve and a half is acceptable.

"Leg—Length fourteen inches, circumference eight inches.

"Cuff—Circumference, unstretched, six inches. Stretched to fullest extent, thirteen and a half inches.

"We are going to ask all supervisors of knitting to give their particular care and attention, and please do not accept garments that do not come up to these specifications."

All Carbon county auxiliaries are asked to be governed by the instructions given above. The letter is signed by Henry Swann, manager of the mountain division, and also by Mrs. Josephine D. Wood, superintendent of hospital garments.

Craig, Colo. It is the purpose of the association to vigorously prosecute all who engage in cattle thieving if evidence can be secured. The membership of the association is nearing the one hundred mark and is a potent factor in promoting the interests of cattlegrowers.

An increase in hog production to the tune of 500 per cent in the last year is reported in Beaver and vicinity, according to Dr. H. W. Hoggan, state live stock inspector. Five carloads have been shipped from that one town alone, being the first consignment of any considerable quantity from that vicinity. The sheep industry, also, says Dr. Hoggan, is extending in that locality.

HORSES WITH THE GLANDERS PRESENT PECULIAR PROBLEM

Dr. H. W. Hoggan, state live stock inspector, went to Ogden Wednesday to attend to the killing of five horses, found in purchases made in behalf of the British remount commission, and under test showing glanders. Thereby hangs a somewhat complicated problem for the state. In the first place it is not known who owns the horses. The British army officers say the British government is buying horses "free on board Chicago." They therefore say they are not British horses until they get there. On the other hand the Ogden sales agency says it gets the money for the horses in Ogden.

The state recently allowed 50 per cent of the value of horses belonging to F. J. Moran, which had been killed for glanders. A similar amount might be allowed under certain circumstances with regard to a horse purchased at Collinston which was among those found to have the glanders. The other horses came from Idaho—three widely separated towns. The former—if not the present—owners want to take them back to Idaho that they may be awarded the amount allowed by the Idaho law. But the Idaho authorities and the railroad alike refuse to allow such a shipment. In the meantime the horses bear the British government brands. A brand in the West is usually held to denote ownership.

ALL WOOL IN THESE UNITED STATES NEEDED FOR WAR

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 27.—A large portion of the raw wool now in this country and all to be produced or imported before January 1, 1920, will be required for military uses, the war industries board announced today, following conferences with woolen manufacturers.

Stocks of manufactured clothing on hand are adequate for essential civilian needs, but strict economy will be necessary to stretch these stocks over the eighteen months period of shortage.

Attempts are being made to increase wool importations, but shipping facilities interfere with this program.

Are You Getting the Most For Your Money?

Then come here and get more. Don't be satisfied with the outfit you get when you can get the whole lot just as well. If you are feeling a little poorer over your present trading place, try us for a few weeks and make a fair comparison.

We know that we buy goods as cheaply as it is possible for anyone to buy them under like conditions. And we know that we sell at the closest margin of profit that it is possible for anyone to sell without sustaining an actual financial loss.

This means a direct saving on every purchase you make. It means keeping money right in your own pocket that you would otherwise be paying out to some dealer who sells less goods and makes a larger profit. This is the place that gives you the most for your money. Everything in meats and packing-house products.
